

OLD CASTLE ONCE UPON A TIME

By: Ema

Once upon a time, a group of builders and architects got together. They shared the goal of building a castle which will stand as a symbol of their town.

They worked tirelessly and build the first tower.

Because he stood alone, he became angry.

Then the second one, but it took too long to build, making the tower sleepy.

They were so clumsy while constructing the third tower, that he also became clumsy.

The fourth tower was too small and ended up being shy...

The fifth one was the tallest.

He was happy because out of all the towers he had, the best view.

Construction for the seventh started in winter.

achoo!!

He got sick and started sneezing!

After the last tower was built and the castle was finished, the builders noticed something...

While building the sixth tower, they discussed documentaries.

He listened and became smarter than other towers.

The towers merged and lost their personalities. Together they made the most beautiful castle anyone has ever seen.

The Old Castle stands today but only a few know the story of its origin.

